

SARENA D. BURCH

Senior Vice President, Fuel Procurement and Asset Management SCANA Corporation

Sarena Burch, 51, joined SCANA in 1991.

A native of West Columbia, South Carolina, Burch earned a bachelor of arts degree at Converse College and a juris doctorate at the University of South Carolina School of Law.

Burch was formerly the deputy general counsel and assistant secretary for SCANA Corporation and its subsidiaries. In her current role, Burch is responsible for SCANA's fuel supply and capacity strategy and ensures that the company is responsive to the regulatory requirements in each of the states in which it operates. She also manages the strategic sourcing department.

Burch is a member of the Energy Bar Association, the South Carolina Women's Lawyers Association, Southern Gas Association, American Coal Council and U.S. Women in Nuclear. Her community contributions include serving on the board of directors of the Killingsworth Home, Healthy Learners program and United Way of the Midlands. She is the sponsor of SCANA's Women's Leadership Group and a member of Northside Baptist Church.